Tourism Development Manager - Eyre Peninsula

An exciting opportunity has emerged for an innovative and proactive manager to lead the development of Eyre Peninsula as a world class tourism destination.

Regional Development Australia Whyalla and Eyre Peninsula (RDAWEP) is an organisation playing a key role in Eyre Peninsula's economic future. RDAWEP is the peak regional tourism organisation, charged with driving the strategic growth of the region's visitor economy.

We are seeking a values-driven manager to deliver innovative tourism and economic development outcomes through active stakeholder collaboration and project management.

Based in Port Lincoln, the successful candidate will be a dynamic networker with great influencing and presentation skills and have a strong commercial focus and well developed persuasion, leadership and negotiation skills. Sound business acumen and proven results in the corporate arena will be looked at favourably. Tertiary qualifications in tourism, communications or marketing will be highly regarded, as will an understanding of the local government and tourism sectors.
